

AWS re/Start Training Program at NCI

Bringing new career opportunities to Southern Virginia

New College Institute (NCI), in a collaborative effort with Amazon Web Services (AWS), offers a new opportunity for Virginians to start a new career in the fast-growing field of cloud computing.

Cloud computing skills are the most in demand hard skill by employers in 2019.

AWS re/Start and NCI Work Together to Build Local Talent

AWS re/Start Training program at NCI provides cloud computing skills development and job training that prepares learners for entry-level careers in the cloud.

The program builds local talent by providing AWS Cloud skills development and job opportunities to unemployed or underemployed populations.

AWS re/Start is collaborating with NCI, a state-funded educational entity in Martinsville, VA, that advances economic and educational attainment and research opportunities. NCI will help support learners throughout the AWS re/Start program and help learners launch a career in the cloud.

AWS re/Start Training

Each cohort of learners, supported by professional mentors and accredited trainers, completes a 12-week training featuring real-world scenario-based learning, hands-on labs, and coursework.

Additionally, the training:

- Provides learners with resume and interview coaching to prepare for employer meetings and interviews to launch an entry-level cloud career.
- Includes topics such as adaptive communication, time management, and collaboration.
- Connects learners with potential hiring employers.
- Provides feedback on growth areas to prepare them for future success.

Career Opportunities

AWS re/Start program alumni pursue entry-level cloud roles in operations, site reliability, and infrastructure support. They can provide frontline support, escalate issues effectively, carry out initial troubleshooting, and automate manual tasks.

AWS re/Start and NCI are excited to collaborate to build an inclusive and diverse global pipeline of new cloud talent by focusing on unemployed, underemployed, and transitioning populations and helping them launch entry-level cloud careers.

NCI Opens Doors

NCI brings unparalleled opportunities to attain the career skills and education needed to succeed and prosper in today's ever-changing economy. NCI partners with leaders in industry, Virginia colleges, and K-12 education systems to offer innovative ways to gain new corporate skills and education in new and emerging fields.

NCI partners with companies to offer programs and training that advance careers and build the skills necessary in technology and other high-growth sectors. With online programs and on-site classes in Martinsville, Virginia, NCI offers flexible opportunities that advance your education and career goals.
